Armed speed boats of Viet Nam are patrolling one of the many waterways in the guerrilla-infested area of Viet Nam, where the hit-and-run war against the Communist-dominated Viet-

Minh forces still goes on. U.S. material is now reaching Indo-China in increasing volume to aid the French and their allies throw back the Red wave. (Central Press Canadian.)

Compromise Settles Ship Strike

OTTAWA (CP)—A seamen's strike threatening to paralyze Canada's ocean merchant fleet ended Friday.

Seamen who walked out September 29 settled for a basic $5-a-month wage increase and a work week shortened to 48 hours. The settlement was a compromise on the part of both the sailors and the ship operators.

An offshoot of the surprise settlement—the disputants had been regarded as still at odds up to Friday—was that it will speed a cabinet decision on whether federal subsidies should be provided to keep the deep sea fleet operating.

League Muffs Martin's Joke

By Colonist Staff Reporter

VANCOUVER—Health Minister Eric Martin's sly Irish wit led 475 Social Crediters here to propose a manifest absurdity as government policy.

The Socreds, meeting to pass resolutions for the government's guidance, were discussing one urging that the alcohol content of B.C. liquor be restored to its prewar standard.

Mr. Martin offered a dead-pan amendment that "all the water be taken out of the liquor." Whisky could be reduced to a powder and taken like snuff, he suggested.

A delegate seconded the amendment and it was passed without further discussion. In the corridor a few minutes later Mr. Martin was explaining to a group of astonished observers that he had intended the amendment purely as a joke, "but some fool seconded it and it was passed."

Standing beside Mr. Martin was a man—the minister apparently didn't recognize R. O. Ney, Oak Bay delegate who seconded the amendment.

Socreds Hit At Sport On Sunday

Resolution in Favor Rouses Sharp Attack

By T. A. MYERS

Colonist Staff Reporter

VANCOUVER—A resolution urging "limited" Sunday sports and entertainment brought religious-minded delegates storming to the microphones in protest as the provincial Social Credit convention neared its end Friday.

The resolution, which would have limited entertainment to after-church hours, ran into stiff opposition on all sides. It was eventually tabled after some sharp discussion.

Prof. J. Friend Day of Vancouver, speaking in favor of the resolution, told of his strained boyhood, when the only Sunday reading permitted by his parents was the Bible and "Pilgrim's Progress."

This, he said, was "puritanical humbug." He urged the convention to approve the resolution.

The delegates, however, would have none of that. One after another trooped to the floor mikes to express stern disapproval of what they called a "wide-open Sunday."

"If we go for this sort of thing we're just opening up the way for paid sports, movies and entertainment," said R. O. Ney of Oak Bay. "Sunday will become just another rowdy day."

The vote on tabling the motion cut off the debate. A resolution asking the government to correct conditions at the Boys' Industrial School at Coquitlam—which a Dewdney delegate said was prompted by attacks on girls by boys running away from the school—struck sparks from Health and Welfare Minister Eric Martin.

"I wish you Social Crediters would read the newspapers once in a while, or at least ask us what's going on," Mr. Martin said. He explained that the government is building a new $2,000,000 boys' school at Brannan Lake on Vancouver Island, and was training a new staff which "will solve a great deal of our problems."

Coast Ships Crash Bow-On During Fog

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two West Coast passenger steamers collided bow-on in dense fog Friday at the entrance to Vancouver harbor.

The impact tore a gaping 35-foot hole in the port bow of Union Steamship's Ss. Cardena and two of her crew received minor injuries. The 333-foot, 5,251-ton Princess Elizabeth, owned by Canadian Pacific Steamships, escaped almost unscathed.

Close to 150 passengers aboard the two ships were hurled from their feet in the grinding crash that locked the two vessels together but all escaped with nothing worse than a shaking up.

The Elizabeth, outbound for Nanaimo with 96 passengers and 30 automobiles aboard, was passing under Lions Gate Bridge at the harbor entrance when the crash occurred at 9:20 a.m. PST. The ships, both traveling at slow speed, loomed out of the fog and smashed to gether a moment later.

PLATES RIPPED
The Elizabeth's sharp prow knifed into the lighter Cardena, inbound from her Minster Island run with 50 passengers, ripping her plates. The Elizabeth's anchor was driven part way into the Cardena's hull.

In the recoil from the jarring impact, the Elizabeth swung around almost parallel to the

Alberni Crash Fatal

ALBERNI—One man was killed instantly, another seriously injured in a motorcycle-truck collision at a residential intersection here at 4:30 p.m. Friday.

Dead is James Harvey Sandberg, 33, of Port Alberni. Seriously injured was Ralph Spierling, 33, also of Port Alberni, who suffered leg injuries. Both men are thought to be transient.

Sandberg and Spierling were riding on the motorcycle involved in a collision with a truck driven by John Harper, 23, of Port Alberni at the intersection of Latham and G-r-trude.

It is not yet known which of the two was driving the motorcycle. RCMP investigation of the accident is continuing.

Spierling was taken to West Coast General Hospital for treatment.

LOCKED BY CHAINS
Locked by anchor chains, the vessels were towed clear of traffic lanes into English Bay, where the tug Burnaby Straits of Straits Towing Ltd. managed to pry them apart.

Three hours later, the Elizabeth continued on to Nanaimo. Canadian Pacific Steamships officials said the Elizabeth would return to Vancouver later and make a scheduled midnight sailing to Victoria. She will be put up next week for minor repairs to her starboard bow.

STAY ON BOARD
Crew members and some passengers on the Cardena donned life jackets after the collision that cut the crew quarters wide open, but passengers remained aboard both vessels.

The 235-foot, 1,500-ton Cardena was towed to her berth here.

Injured were officer Victor Gekka and stoker Robert Luz of the Cardena. Both were taken to hospital for treatment of minor injuries. They were asleep in their bunks when the ships struck.

Work Call Fails

LONDON (Reuters)—London's gasoline distributors, whose four-day strike is grinding the capital's traffic to a halt, Friday night rejected a return-to-work call from their union leaders.

Their mass meeting broke up without agreement of any sort after the union motion had been—overwhelmingly rejected, strongly indicating the strike will continue during the week end.

Army and air force troops moved into London Friday to check the paralysis. Khaki-clad Tommies and drivers in the RAF's slate blue will be on the road at dawn today in tank trucks, seeing to it that essential traffic is kept moving.

A spokesman for the strikers said the union's call had been turned down Friday night because the union did not offer token support for pay increase demands. More mass meetings will be held today and Sunday. Meanwhile, "we have no plans for any return to work," the spokesman said.

Bennett, Manning Share Platform

Socred Chiefs See Rosy Future

By Colonist Staff Reporter

VANCOUVER—Eight hundred confident, smiling Social Crediters crowded into Vancouver's Georgia Auditorium Friday night to hear a platform full of party chiefs predict a rosy Socred future after "greater victories still to be won."

Sharing a platform for the first time were Canada's two Social Credit premiers, W. A. C. Bennett and Alberta's E. C. Manning.

Ranked beside them were national Social Credit president Rev. E. G. Hansell, national organizer Orvis Kennedy, provincial league president Noel Murphy and his new executive, and almost the entire provincial cabinet.

Missing from the line-up was national leader Solon Low, who flew east three hours ahead of schedule to escape an in-rolling fog.

Premier Manning, chief speaker at a banquet celebrating the end of B.C. Socreds' first big gathering since their political victories of this summer, praised the B.C. faithful for their "phenomenal breakthrough" and told them that Social Credit now stands "at the threshold of a great new era."

Other speakers pursued the same vein. "Social Credit is on the march," provincial president Murphy said. "We're on our way," echoed Orvis Kennedy. "Nothing can stop us," national president Hansell jubilantly proclaimed.

The two premiers indulged in a little mutual flattery as they shared their first audience together. "I admire and respect Mr. Bennett more than I can express in words," Mr. Manning said.

"We'll never have a better nor a greater leader than our own Mr. Manning," said Premier Bennett.

Mr. Manning told the audience that Social Crediters in B.C. had kindled the flame that would sweep the nation.

"For years people had the idea that Social Credit was a sort of crackpot mistake that happened just the other side of the Rockies, that it was an epidemic that would never spread to the more civilized parts of Canada."

"But you people here have started a fire that amazed all those antiquated political prophets who were so sure it couldn't happen here."

"The break-through you people have made shows all of Canada that this was no peculiar local idea" but the beginnings of a great national movement.

OBJECTIVE NEEDED

"The pioneer days have passed," he went on. "We have entered a new era. . . For this we must have a worthy and clearly defined objective."

This could not be simply the establishment of a new political party seeking to gain and retain office as its sole purpose, he said. Nor could it be simply to be a critical and destructive force in the country's economic and political life.

Mr. Manning outlined as his ideal these three goals:

A sound, constructive alternative to other political parties;

Provision of the facilities to implement a "program to meet the needs of the Canadian people in this day and age."

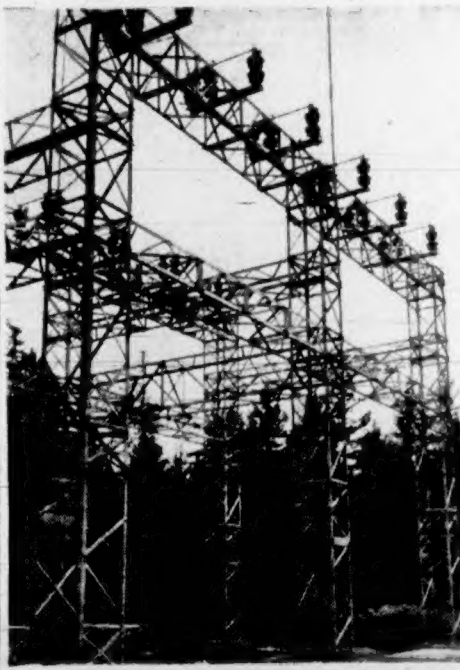

And the establishment of "new standards and a new attitude toward the administration of public affairs."

Captive Clubs Red Leader

NEW YORK (UP)—Convicted U.S. Communist leader Robert G. Thompson was slugged twice on the head Friday by a prison mate yielding a lead pipe, and sent to a hospital with a fractured skull.

Thompson's assailant, Alexander Pavlovich, 32, a Yugoslav reported to have strong anti-Communist feelings, was to have been deported aboard a Yugoslavia-bound ship Friday night for illegal entry. It was

Substation Radio-Controlled

Construction of a new $250,000 outdoor substation on Station Road, Langford, is in progress, the B.C. Electric Co. announced Friday. Purpose of the automatic station will be to reduce part of the 60,000-volt energy from the Jordan River hydro plant to 12,000 volts for distribution in the Langford, Metchison, Albert Head, Happy Valley areas and the new national defense installation at Rocky Point. The new substation is expected to be in operation by December 15. Control equipment will adjust to demands on the line, and the station will also be radio-controlled from Victoria, and will be the company's first radio-controlled substation on Vancouver Island.

Stateless Woman Reprieved

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mrs. Caterina Basha, 63, Vancouver's "woman without a country," has received a reprieve on her deportation to Italy.

Mrs. Basha, a stateless White Russian, said Friday she had received word from Ottawa that she will be permitted to remain in Canada another six months if she can get an extension on her Italian passport.

Following her Italian husband's death in 1950, she left Shanghai and married an American citizen in Brazil.

Following the deportation order, Mrs. Basha was told she would probably not be allowed to land in Italy because she is now the wife of an American, from whom she is estranged.

Mrs. Basha wants to stay in Canada.

'Explanations' Delayed Anew

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The neutral nations repatriation commission today put off until Monday an announcement that may indefinitely delay the stalled Communist "explanations" to defiant anti-Red prisoners of war.

The release was made possible under a new law which permits inmates to file a petition to have their cases considered. If a Superior Court judge finds they have been illegally committed he may release them. Or he may have the petitioners examined for a 35-day period by psychiatrists before making a decision.

Paul Rivers, 25, of Somerville, committed in 1947 as a defective delinquent.

During the hearings, Judge Forte criticized state attorney general George Fingold, who, he said, "up to now, it seems, has found no merit in any of these cases. The attorney-general seems to have pre-judged all these cases."

James Goodridge, 33, of Wren-

tham, in detention 28 years after confinement at the age of five. He was later termed a sex case and confined at Concord Reformatory and Bridgewater.

Martin J. Perkins, 55, of Worcester, committed for larceny of a pipe, tobacco and sofa pillow and confined for 30 years.

Henry A. Gilbert, 48, of Northampton, a prisoner for 24 years, who became a musician and leader of the band at the Bridge water state farm.

Chest Reaches $151,638

Youngster Gives Savings

Friday afternoon nine-year-old Gordon Burleson did not come straight home from school. Instead he pedaled off to Spencerhouse.

"Is this where you make donations to the Community Chest?" he asked. Informed that it was, he placed 25 cents—saved from his allowance—in front of Chest officials. He was given an official receipt, which he may use to claim income tax exemption.

"These little incidents happen all the time," smiled Ron Hooper, Chest secretary. "We had another kid in today with money he made selling lemonade on the street corner."

Every contribution, whether it comes from the city's wealthiest industrialist or the little lad with a conscience, helps to push the Chest total nearer the required mark.

The Friday night audit brought the total up to $151,638.29.

Colonist To Tell Of Mountbattens

An outstanding series of articles, "The Fabulous Mountbattens," begins Sunday in The Islander, the Colonist's magazine section.

Adapted from Brian Connell's book, "Manifest Destiny," the 10 illustrated articles will tell the story of the Duke of Edinburgh, Queen Elizabeth's consort.

The first article covers two pages in this week's Islander.

Subsequent articles will appear weekly in the magazine section.

Massachusetts Judge Orders Release

Seven Wrongly Imprisoned Six to 41 Years

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP)—Seven men, found to have been illegally committed as prisoners, were free Friday after serving terms in state institutions for periods of from six to 41 years.

All seven wept with joy when their freedom was ordered Thursday by Superior Court Judge Felix Forte on the grounds their commitment was illegal and without even a hearing in some cases.

Judge Forte found one of the men, Elmer Bridges, had been a prisoner for 41 of his 51 years on a case of mistaken identity. The judge said Bridges was locked up as a boy of 10 on a charge of truancy when, in fact, it was Bridges' brother who was the truant.

Bridges was so overjoyed on his release he shook hands with everyone in the courtroom, from the judge to reporters covering the hearing.

All seven men had been sentenced to indefinite terms as defective delinquents.

Judge Forte found many of the men were transferred from institutions for minor infractions during their commitment.

The other six men released and their terms are:

William J. Bryant, 33, of Lawrence, committed at the age of 10 for truancy.

Gerald F. Martin, 27, of Lynn, one of a family of 16 children, in custody 11 years for receiving stolen goods.

Henry A. Gilbert, 48, of Northampton, a prisoner for 24 years, who became a musician and leader of the band at the Bridge water state farm.

James Goodridge, 33, of Wren-

tham, in detention 28 years after confinement at the age of five. He was later termed a sex case and confined at Concord Reformatory and Bridgewater.

Some Korea Troops Won't Get Benefits

TORONTO (CP)—The Globe and Mail said Friday it has learned that Canadian servicemen who embarked for Korea after the cease fire will receive neither gratuities for overseas service nor discharge benefits such as clothing allowances and rehabilitation grants.

FALSE NOTION

"Consequently those in Canada who volunteered for Korea between the cease fire date, July 26, and October 14 when the order-in-council was published in the Canada Gazette, will not receive the benefits."

In an Ottawa dispatch the newspaper says the cabinet, as an economy measure, passed an order-in-council September 24 to cut off October 31 practice.

Slayer Sentenced To Hang

PEACE RIVER, Alta. (CP)—Henry A. Alfred, 23, will be hanged January 26 for the murder of George Craig at a lonely Peace River district trapline cabin last March.

Alfred, also accused of killing a second man, Harold Sherris, was found guilty Friday by a six-man jury which deliberated 90 minutes before returning its verdict.

Indicted only for Craig's murder, Alfred will be hanged at the Fort Saskatchewan provincial jail near Edmonton.

Soviet Internal Trade Program Further Booster for Economy

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union's announcement of measures to boost development of internal trade underscores once more the determination of Premier Malenkov's government to strengthen the domestic economy.

The report indicates some of the best brains have been assigned the task of making good on the government's promise to plain that all factors needed for swift development of internal trade existed in the Soviet Union and that it was high time to root out shortcomings in state, cooperative and collective farm trade.

Bulganan is known as the outstanding Soviet financial expert. Preliminary to the latest decree aimed at a gigantic step-up in production and distribution of consumer goods, the all-union conference of trade workers was held in Moscow.

Bulganan participated personally. Bulganan apparently made it

Drought Called Worst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. weather bureau took a good look at the drought Friday and pronounced it—in places—the worst in history. But there are indications that the severe dry spell may be breaking up soon, with rains already coming to parts of the parched Southwest and Midwest.

Before the rains came this week, more than half of U.S. farmlands baked in an Indian summer that brought less than a quarter of the usual fall moisture.

Ivan R. Tannehill, head of weather reporting and forecasting, said that fortunately this drought has done less overall damage than some others, notably the "black blizzard" dust storms of the 30s.

But the government has still declared 454 counties drought disaster areas and made available about $50,000,000 to farmers.

Tannehill said it has been the worst drought in history for part of the southwestern United States, and especially for the state of Missouri. Also, the whole area east of the Mississippi River has experienced one of the worst droughts of all time, Tannehill said.

Currency Hopeful, Says Official

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—Canadian goods may get a better shot at the British market before very long, Richard P. Bower, commercial councillor at Canada House in London, in

He spoke to the Canadian Exporters' Association, dealing particularly with the question of whether Britain may make her currency increasingly convertible into dollars—one of the prerequisites to normal buying and selling. He said:

"The United Kingdom's economy for the first time is headed in the right direction. If this continues we may reach the objective (increased convertibility) sooner than we think."

"Britain is doing a good job, but others have a part to play, including the United States and Canada."

He said his personal opinion was that the "risks of greater convertibility are not as profound as Britons think, but nevertheless they remember the near-disaster when they attempted convertibility in 1947."

The pound sterling was overvalued in earlier years and this had resulted in heavy buying of goods from the United States and Canada, Mr. Bower said.

"Today the pound is not overvalued. In my opinion it now is undervalued. If it were freed, Britain might be surprised."

Drew Aide Has Ticket On Long Shot

OTTAWA (CP)—James Cassidy, private secretary to Progressive Conservative leader George Drew, stands to win up to $140,000 in the Irish sweepstakes on the Cambridgehire next Wednesday.

Brunetto, a 40-1 shot in the race. He wins $1033 for drawing the horse and will receive the $140,000 jackpot if Brunetto wins.

Cassidy said that if he wins he will "invest my unearned increment in the interests of future retirement of a certain private secretary to a certain political leader."

Informants here said Cassidy was elected as an associate member of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

Her application for full membership was rejected.

As an associate member she will be able to sit in on GATT meetings and negotiate with each country bilaterally for lower tariffs.

Canada To Cut Tariffs on Japan Goods

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada will vote for Japan's associate membership along with 25 other nations if she is to slash tariffs on Japanese goods in the next few months when a "fair trade" part between the two countries will be ready for signing, well informed sources disclosed Friday.

A number of GATT members are expected shortly to grant Japan most-favored-nation treatment, which calls for a much lower rate of duty.

Japan has been clamoring for lower Canadian tariffs for many months. She has repeatedly in paper for their livelihood.

We Pay for the Cake

SOCIAL CREDIT adherents are in for an interesting time in British Columbia if, as their new president avers, they have found "a means of eating one's cake and having it." The last individual whom one can recall making that claim was Charles Ponzi, the Italian adventurer, who early in this century set up the fabulous Ponzi enterprises which were to yield 100 per cent profit annually forever. Mr. Ponzi, of course, did not believe in the theory of perpetual returns from initial capital, but that was the bill of goods he sold to his investors.

By the hundreds and thousands laborers, farmers, housewives and others showered the Italian trickster with their hard-earned cash. He took their life savings, returned a small portion of it to the first "investors" in the form of thumping dividends, and when he had milked the field dry fled with the cash. The police caught up with him, but not with most of the cash. Ponzi, it was discovered, believed in eating the cake at once.

Of course there could be no such intention in the minds of the present day proponents of the eat-and-have brigade. The slogan is being advanced no doubt as a political catchword for whatever theories of monetary reform that division of the Social Credit party may stand for. The theory, however, will be difficult to square with the sound-money platform upon which Premier Bennett, Finance Minister Gundersen and their colleagues were elected.

Ponzi profits are evanescent. Capital can be used up once, and then it is gone. Credit in human experience exists where the borrower is good for it, and not anywhere else. There will likely be no mythical "social credit" dividends by any government in Canada until it has first discharged its very real debts. In the case of British Columbia, someone will have to find a good many millions before there would be any "cake" to go around. The fact is that in respect of past borrowings British Columbians have already eaten their cake and so no longer have it. On the national scene short of printing-house money the eat-and-have formula would out-Ponzi Ponzi. That would be the day!

The "Glorious Gloucesters"

TEN days ago the resounding strains of "The Kyrgyz Slayers," regimental march of the Gloucestershire Regiment, echoed over Southampton harbor as Lieut.-Col. J. P. Carne led 76 of his officers and men down the gangplank, back home after two years' imprisonment by the Communists in Korea. Yesterday it was announced in London that this tall, calm, pipe-smoking C.O. had been awarded the Victoria Cross. The Queen will pin the decoration on his breast on Tuesday next.

The award of the VC is always an occasion for note and comment, so rarely is this decoration for valor bestowed in comparison with the millions of men who serve the colors over the years. Only 1,346 VCs have been gazetted in almost a century and in some 50 wars and military campaigns. That fact itself illuminates the distinctive character of the decoration, the highest and most coveted by fighting men throughout the Commonwealth.

The award to Colonel Carne recalls one of the epic battles of the Korean war, the day in April, 1951, when the "Glorious Gloucesters" made an heroic stand on the banks of the Imjin River. This was an engagement that thrilled the world, and the honor now bestowed on the battalion's commanding officer is a tribute both to himself and the men he led in battle, as the bestowal of the VC on a senior officer is frequently meant to be.

This may be recognized also in the praise of his men voiced by Colonel Carne when he stepped ashore at Southampton. "I think they were magnificent before they were captured," he said, "and from all I have heard the majority kept their heads up amazingly well afterwards." A plain, straightforward commendation, and one that military men everywhere will understand. The VC roll of honor records many brave and brilliant deeds, and this latest entry is the rightful peer of its predecessors.

One-Way Street Plan Has Merit

ON the recommendation of its traffic consultant the city council has decided to put into effect next January a system of one-way streets in the most congested part of the business district. Traffic conditions in that area, particularly during the rush hours, have been crying for improvement for a long time, and it may be that this is the answer. The plan, product of a detailed study of traffic densities, directions of flow and chief causes of tie-ups, certainly merits a trial. The fact that it has been examined and approved by the police and public transportation companies suggests that it is basically sound. Another important factor is that it is not some hit-and-miss scheme to speed up movement in one troublesome locality, but part of a master plan for the city as a whole, which can be expanded as the need appears.

The new arrangement will make available 40 extra parking spaces, which is an attractive enough aspect of the plan in itself. More important, however, is the anticipated lessening of congestion on Fort Street, now frequently choked to a virtual standstill in rush hours. This is to be accomplished by a one-way movement system transferring much of the load to Broughton, and also by doing away with the need for opposing streams of traffic to cross one another.

The decision to make the change over early in January is a good one, for that is the time of year when traffic is lightest, with the Christmas and New Year rush over. That there will be some confusion at the start is inevitable, but it should not take motorists long to adjust themselves to the need to "think out" routes through the business district instead of being able to turn in any direction they choose.

VICTORIA BY ELECTION

Sir—Your editorial on the B.C. by-election raises some interesting points. Practical politics requires any political group to present their viewpoint to the voters on every possible occasion. Elections provide the best opportunity for this to be done, using the candidate and supporting speakers for the purpose.

Failure of a political party to contest an election can be interpreted by the voters in several ways, none of which enhances the party's prestige.

As the official opposition, with a consistent provincial voting average, the CCF believes that government should remain in the hands of the voters. Should Victorians deem it desirable to improve upon their choice the CCF stands ready with an alternative.

Although widely known, the fact is never officially admitted that the deputy minister and staff of any department provide the knowledge required by cabinet ministers in their discussions with the opposition. The finance department is outstanding in this respect.

The wisdom of allowing any premier to foist handpicked members of the executive council of this province upon the voters by a process of attrition is open to question, and any lingering doubt about the new government being different from the Coalition should be by now dispelled.

Learning the new job, supervising the department, visiting Ottawa, New York, and latterly Peru, leave little time for a cabinet minister to visit his constituents. Victorians should decide now whether they want real or token representation, when choosing their new member.

F. J. BEVIS,

President, Victoria-Oak Bay, CCF Association, 2532 Thompson Avenue, Victoria, B.C.

VICTORIA BY ELECTION

Sir—In its first session the Social Credit Government of British Columbia has passed a liquor bill which has denied the workingman a chance to benefit under its provisions, by pricing liquor beyond his capacity to pay. This was done at the insistence of the temperance section of Social Credit, who, when they found that they could not force prohibition on the people, made the price prohibitive to all but the rich.

Passed a 10% tax on the profits of mines and forest industries which will eventually give lower wages to the workman, less income to the thrifty, who have invested their life savings in B.C. industries, and force investors (many have already done so) to invest elsewhere.

Passed a bill to set up a Crown corporation for the building of toll bridges, a step which will not only penalize certain parts of the province for trying to get ahead, but will take us back 200 years in the art of government.

Given the people of British Columbia the largest budget in the history of this province, and the highest taxes in Canada; juggled figures to show a surplus which does not, in fact exist; and canceled B.C.H.S. premium arrears of thousands of people, thus throwing an unfair load on people who pay their debts.

All this was done at a speed so great that it is doubtful that anyone outside the government could properly assess the bills. The democratic procedures and institutions of this country were won by our forefathers at great cost, and they must be preserved so that they may not be lost to us, and to our children who come after us. We will oppose Social Credit whenever we find it, as long as it remains an organized political force in Canada.

J. A. A. GEORGE, 1229 St. Patrick Street, Victoria, B.C.

Soil Tillers

By FRANK KELLEY

WHEN a professor presently attached to the UBC faculty recently called the attention of the Community Planning Association of Canada, convened at Vancouver, to some of the results of a continued movement of town-weary dwellers into pleasant rural areas nearby, there was really not much in what he stated not already known to that organization. Its members were, in fact, fully aware of the problems he mentioned; as were, for ever so long, a lot more of our citizens.

There was something definitely worthwhile, however, in the warning which really featured his considered address. He stressed the inevitable results that must follow the persistent withdrawal of lands highly suitable for the production of foodstuffs in quantities for the rural housing of town-employed folk—which would mean, primarily, a great shortage of garden and field products; and secondly, the necessity for importing certain life-sustaining commodities.

Everyone knows it has been a long-practiced privilege in this land of ours to make a living in the town and at the same time, having the wherewithal, to enjoy the amenities of the countryside nearby through the ownership of a rural-placed dwelling. The pioneer breaker of the soil was not averse to this, in fact welcomed it, as it meant disposing of his land at a fair price and most likely an over-the-fence market for some of his garden produce as well.

What the professor said may call some attention to the deeper significance of what certain government enactments have meant in restricting agricultural development in parts of little-known Vancouver Island. There are few opportunities—once upon a time there were many—for a tiller of the soil to pre-empt a homestead plot in a place of his liking, where he might expect to get some future returns for his labors. Everywhere he might look now the potential homesteader is discouraged from pre-empting land, there being a lack of roads and the fact the bit he might fancy is part of a forest reserve.

And yet there are thousands of acres of Crown lands on Vancouver Island potential agricultural land. Take "The Forests of British Columbia," published at Ottawa in 1938, the result of an on-the-ground investigation conducted by federal agents in collaboration with British Columbia's department of lands. It will tell you there are some thousands of square miles in that part of the Island beyond the boundaries of the E. & N. grant that are better adapted to the pursuits of agriculture than what the areas are reserved for the coming of the logger and the sawmill operator.

One is not against either of those worthy groups, builders of Vancouver Island's great industrial structure. May they continue to prosper; but while there is a possibility of this Island not having sufficient land suitable for the growing of enough foodstuffs in the E. & N. belt to meet future demands of the populace, it should be good administration to open up certain blocks of acreage and make it as easy as possible for the homesteader to break and cultivate them. Tillers of the soil are as necessary to our economy and development as stalwarts of the lumber industry. Other areas could echo what advocates of a road from Alberni to Tofino will tell you that there are many potential acres, which would attract the homesteader, on the islands of Clayoquot Sound if those islands were taken out of the forest reserve and the long overused highway into the area completed.

Reports from Ottawa

THE security leak which resulted in the McGill Fence story caused the greatest flap at defense headquarters here in many a month, but it now appears that the leak was in the United States rather than in Canada.

American columnist Marquis Childs "broke" the story of the Canadian Arctic radar plan soon after his return from a visit to Ottawa. That raised the assumption that he had picked up the information here, which put officials with whom he had talked in an awkward position.

They included Foreign Minister Pearson, Lt. Gen. Charles Foulkes, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canadian chairman of the joint defense board.

However, investigation has satisfied the authorities that Childs possessed the secret information on the McGill Fence before he came to Ottawa. His visit here may have been to try to get more details, or to draw a red herring across his trail so his source, possibly someone in Washington, wouldn't be suspected of talking.

Dr. O. M. Solandt, chairman of the defense research board—whom Childs did not interview—told me that the amount of accurate information which "leaked out" in connection with the McGill work is not a serious breach of security. Nothing has been disclosed, he said, which the Russians couldn't figure out for themselves.

However, public disclosure of the Canadian project in American newspapers was embarrassing to those on both sides of the border cooperating in this field of defense research. The stories created the impression that while the Canadians were taking great strides in licking the problem of early warning, the Americans weren't making much progress. Which just isn't the case.

This case, plus the security leaks on RCAF testing of air-to-air guided missiles and Avro's still unconfirmed "flying saucer," have raised the question of the press' responsibility. How much should the papers print?

Those who want as free a flow of information as possible argue that the taxpayers are entitled to know how their dollars are being spent. Defense authorities counter with, "Why tell the Russians everything we're doing?"

Short of censorship—which isn't a solution compatible with our kind of society—there doesn't seem to be any fool-proof way to keep out of print information which might be valuable to the potential enemy. But the defense authorities could do more than they have done to enlist the cooperation of the press.

For one thing, they could stop needlessly classifying information as secret. Even our defense scientists complain that the military mind has a propensity to classify anything it doesn't understand. And a good many of the new scientific developments in warfare are beyond the not necessarily intelligent officers in the intelligence branch who decide classification ratings.

For another, the authorities could give guidance to the press. With all the secret projects under way in this country, about the only guidance the press has received was a request Defense Minister Claxton made in a letter to editors in 1950, asking them not to disclose the locations of radar stations. Significantly, the newspaper editors cooperated almost 100 per cent.

Civil Defense Apathy

(From The Montreal Gazette)

IT may seem, at first glance, that Canadians are rather apathetic about civil defense.

Maj.-Gen. F. R. Worthington, national civil defense co-ordinator, points out that five out of Canada's 10 provinces have not touched a penny of more than $2,000,000 in civil defense funds offered in them by the federal government.

No doubt apathy does exist. But surely there could be no better way to increase that apathy than to toss the whole issue of civil defense into the complexities of federal-provincial-municipal relations.

The federal government offers certain funds for civil defense provided that the provinces will meet the offer dollar for dollar. But civil defense has always been regarded as based upon the municipalities. After all, it is the municipalities that are in the greatest danger of attack. But the municipalities are mostly entangled in serious financial problems already. Their taxing fields are limited and narrow. And such daily problems as traffic hang over them as a cloud—a dark enough to obscure even the question of civil defense.

Nor do many of the provinces feel disposed to take upon themselves new financial responsibilities. Their fields of taxation are narrow also, not only by the limitations set by the constitution, but by the intrusion of the federal government.

So long as civil defense is tied up in the disputes between Canada's three levels of government, it is highly unlikely that much progress is to be made. Apathy, which may well exist to begin with, will be confirmed.

In the meantime, if the Canadian people feel that civil defense is a ready taken care of, in some mysterious way, they are profoundly mistaken.

Fun, Fact and Fiction

Death comes at 87 to Ivy Baldwin, whose stunt of walking the high wire without a net was considered sensational until Miss Civilization started doing the same thing.

As the train neared the Chicago Stock Yards, a lady passenger opened her bottle of smelling salts. Soon the whole car was filled with a horrible odors. One passenger put up with it as long as he could, then shouted: "Madam, would you mind putting the cork back in that bottle?"

It is the perennial hope of every poet who salutes the season that his ode will bring in enough money to hire a man to rake autumn's brilliant glory off the lawn.

General Thimayya

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

My neighbor, Vincent Sheean, knows Lieutenant-General Thimayya well. He has stayed in his house; seen him, he tells me, with all kinds of people, social workers trying to repatriate Indian women abducted during the communal wars following the partition of India; all kinds of soldiers; Hindu and Moslem refugees; with the press (the Indian press, which Sheean declares as the most obstinate, inquisitive, and pompous in the world); on the frontier, in army messes. And his ability to get along with all sorts of people was manifest.

Mr. Sheean says he has the highest opinion of his tact, skill, good humor and impartiality. Of his military capacities—in Italy, Burma, "all over the place"—his combat record, citations, and decorations tell the story. "He is an absolutely first-class commander of men."

His training, of course, is British, and he speaks English even with his wife. "He is about 50, six feet tall, husky, handsome, very dark, but with rather Roman features, a first-class polo player, very good at tennis. His wife is small, and an exquisite dancer in the Indian classical manner."

This is the man—"Timmie" to all who know him—who commands the custodial force in Korea, charged to implement the armistice, and presently under fire by the UN command; especially, according to one correspondent writing from Panmunjom, from our "psychological warriors." "The worst job he has ever assigned," says Mr. Sheean.

But "Timmie" is a soldier. He probably thinks—he must think—the agreement regarding prisoners of war is awful. "He's a thoughtful man, with many reservations about political policies and, like most soldiers, has no great respect for politicians in general." But his business is to take and give orders. He is absolutely honorable, "and about as many million miles removed from being a Communist as any man on earth."

"Timmie" is attacked because he has handed the roster of anti-Communist prisoners to the "neutral" repatriation commission as a whole, including its Communist Czech and Polish members. Since no Communist was ever a neutral but always an agent, the North Koreans and Red Chinese will have names and data on everyone and probably will threaten their families.

Sure, they will. Didn't anyone think of that in the first place? But our authorities accepted these neutrals, and their right to enter the camps with "explanation teams."

How did we imagine the prisoner data could be kept from all the members of the commission? If a person like myself, who has never set foot in Korea, could foresee what is now happening—the violent resistance, the shooting of some prisoners, the indignity of being cajoled by allies of the forces they hate, unprotected by those to whom they went over under promise of protection—why couldn't the members of the UN command?

And if they did foresee it and nevertheless accepted an armistice even at that price, why try to make a noble Indian, doing his wretched duty, the scapegoat? Why insult a man who, if India is ever attacked by the Soviet powers, will be in the front line of its defense? And why inflame the prisoners' suspicions not only of the Poles and Czechs but of the Indians?

If the prisoners survive the ordeal to which the armistice terms condemned them, without giving in, they will come into the custody of General Thimayya. The neutral commission's work will be finished. If we care about these much tried prisoners, isn't it obvious that we should cultivate the confidence of their future custodian and not make him another enemy of the United States? Against whom is the "psychwar" being waged anyhow? Against everything and everybody?

With the Classics

To one who has been long in city pent,

'Tis very sweet to look into the fair

And open fare of heaven to breathe a prayer

Full in the smile of the blue firmament.

Who is more happy, when, with heart's content,

Fatigued he sinks into some pleasant lair

Of wavy grass, and reads a debonaire

And gentle tale of love and languishment?

Returning home at evening, with an ear

Catching the notes of Philomel,

— An eye

Watching the sailing cloudlet's bright career,

He mourns that day so soon has glided by:

Even like the passage of an angel's tear

That falls through the clear ether silently.

Carpenters Seeking Canadian Council

Exploration will be launched from British Columbia towards establishment of a Canadian Council of Carpenters (TBC).

The B.C. provincial council has instructed its secretary to get in touch with all provincial secretaries for their views. Where a provincial council does not exist district secretaries will few construction firms. Improved labor-management relations and a better understanding of the trade are seen as two results of such agreements, Mr. Staley said.

Income tax exemption of 2 per cent of annual earnings will be sought by the council, as compensation for loss and re-

Decision to attempt strengthening the provincial relations was one of many emanating from the B.C. council's 11th annual convention concluded in Vancouver.

MANY DELEGATES

Thirty B.C. locals and one in Whitehorse, Y.T., sent delegates to the four-day meeting, longest and largest in the council's history. Guest speakers included R. K. Gervin, Vancouver alderman and Trades and Labor Congress vice-president-elect, and Paul Rudd, president of the Washington State council.

Secretary E. T. Staley said Friday night that the 1954 agreement was drafted and that details will be known next month when bargaining begins with Morrison-Knudsen Company, working at Kemano, and Kitimat Constructors.

Prince George, Prince Rupert and Burns-Lake locals are affected by negotiations with the two companies.

NEW AGREEMENTS

The 1954 bargaining also will see further attempts to obtain province-wide agreements. Some were obtained last year with a Mariners were also advised that Masterman Island light is again in operation.

KING Power To Increase November 26

BY ROY PARRETT

Seattle's KING television station will commence operation on high power on November 26. The channel 5 outlet will celebrate its fifth birthday by increasing its power to 100,000 watts.

James L. Middlebrooks, direc-

announced Friday that steel for the station's new 570-foot tower would arrive October 27. Rigging crews will work around the clock to complete the antenna in time for the November deadline, he said.

The new station, located on Queen Anne Hill, is expected to put a greatly improved signal into Victoria. The present 19,000-watt transmitter is already well received in many parts of the city.

Parts of Vancouver Island not already served by the Seattle station will likely receive it after the power boost. An increase in antenna height from its present 550 feet to 973 feet will ensure reception in many low-lying areas of the island.

Opening of the new KING station will mean brighter, clearer pictures to local viewers. It may also mean an end to "off-nights," "ghosts" and "snow," which sometimes plague reception here.

Research Chief To Visit Here

Dr. O. M. Solandt, chairman of Canada's defense research board, will spend two days in Victoria next month on his way to a vacation in Honolulu.

He will be here November 4 and 5 to inspect the Pacific naval laboratories at Esquimalt, which come directly under the control of the research board, and deliver two public addresses.

He is scheduled to address the Women's Canadian Club and the United Services Institute on November 5.

Before his arrival here, Dr. Solandt will inspect projects at UBC, in Vancouver, financed through federal government grants.

Meeting Planned By Ratepayers

LANGFORD—The annual meeting of Langford ratepayers will be held in the elementary school, Friday, October 30, at 8 p.m. Annual reports of the school trustees will be heard and three representatives to the school board will be elected.

It is hoped that there will be a large attendance at this important meeting.

In the first seven months of this year the Canadian steel industry produced 2,381,481 ingot tons, an increase of 50 per cent over a full year's production prior to the Second World War.

The bidding:
South West North East
2 N T All pass

The opening bid of three no trump doesn't come along as often as once a session, but when it does its precise requirements can be very helpful in getting to the right spot. In the 4, 3, 2, 1 point count, the opening three no trump bid shows 25, 26, 27 points in high cards only. But when you count up the South hand if you reach a total of only 24, don't forget that you are entitled to add a point for possession of all four aces. This makes the South hand an exact minimum three no-trump opening.

With only three points in his hand, North has no problem. He knows there can't possibly be a play for a slam so he passes, of course. And as East has the queen of hearts, declarer has to play extremely well to bring home even his mere game contract.

West opened the queen of clubs. South won the trick and led the jack of hearts, which East took with the queen. Fortunately for South, East didn't have another club and his return of the jack of diamonds proved very helpful to declarer in diagnosing the hand. His first good play was to go up with the ace of diamonds. He couldn't afford to finesse the queen and give up control of the suit if West had the king. West signalled enthusiastically with the eight of diamonds, and South marked him for the king. Declarer next cashed three good hearts and West had to find three discards. He chose to part with two clubs and then the deuce of diamonds.

South then played a diamond from dummy and ducked it to West's blank king. West returned a club to South's ace and, after cashing his queen of diamonds, South led a club. This allowed West to win two club tricks, but he had to lead a spade in the end and give declarer the last two tricks.

It was generally agreed that West should have tossed a couple of spades instead of letting go his two of diamonds, but declarer would still have made his contract. Instead of leading the diamond from dummy, he would lead a spade and win the finesse of the

Socreds Oppose Sunday Sports

Earlier in the day, Labor Minister Lyle Wicks assured the delegates he is keeping a close eye on the "evils" of the infiltration of the B.C. labor market by workers from outside the province.

A resolution presented to the convention asked the government to stop the "abuse" of labor is used only when local labor is not available.

The resolution was tabled after Mr. Wicks explained that his department had made "extensive studies" of the situation and had held successful conferences with officials of the Trans-Mountain Pipeline Company about the use of out-side labor.

He said his department had gone further than the resolution suggested. He had investigated the use of Canadians from other provinces on B.C. jobs, as well as the importation of workers from outside the country.

"Your government is not asking," he said, "We'll do everything possible wherever we find evils of this kind creeping up."

SOME DROPPED

Most of the other resolutions were passed by the convention, but some of the most contentious ones were dropped or side-tracked.

One presented by the Fort George Socreds organization asked the government to take a firm stand against the demands of Roman Catholics for government aid for their parochial schools. The resolution was withdrawn before it could be discussed.

Another, presented by the Esquimalt group, charging that "conditions of subversive Socialism exist in schools at present," was ruled out of order by convention. Then, when he cashed the spade ace, West would have to blank his king of diamonds or let go of a club. Either way, South could read his hand and play so as to make sure of winning a ninth trick.

Gleason Turns Deaf Ear to Appliance Salesman

Acting Helps Trap Fraud Suspects

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Veteran actor Jimmy Gleason, calling on the experience he gained as a detective in real life as well as on the stage and screen, helped police arrest four men Friday on charges of hawking the public with false advertising.

Members of the police bureau squad disclosed Gleason volunteered to help them get the evidence necessary for arrests because he said he was "sick and tired" of hearing television commercials which promised housewives vacuum cleaners almost for free.

Officers accepted his offer and Gleason went to a vacuum cleaner firm in nearby Huntington Park with his housekeeper, Mrs. Marian Harvey, the pair posing as prospective customers.

The pair asked the store to bring the machine to Gleason's home. There, by pre-arrangement, police were hidden in another room with recording equipment. Officers said Gleason pretended to be slightly deaf so that the salesman would speak loudly enough for his spiel to be picked up by the recording machine.

Police said the firm advertised housewives could rent a cleaner for 50 cents a week and in addition would receive a hassock, a floor polisher and a set of cutlery free.

But warrants in municipal court charged that the customer actually had to pay 10 per cent of the value of the merchandise and a year's rent, codes were Milton Lyle, head in advance for a total cost of the vacuum cleaner firm of $16.

Robert Cravat, sales manager, arrested on charges of violating business and professional William Griffith, pitchman on the stage and screen.

television for the firm. They were held on $1,000 bail each.

Gleason disclosed that he had once been a detective third class with the New York police department. For many years he has played detective roles on the stage and screen.

Victoria TELEPHONE EXCHANGE has

9 second service!

How do we know how fast the Victoria telephone service is? Young ladies like this use a stopwatch to time a certain number of calls every day. In this way the average speed is known.

Nine seconds is the average time it takes to put through a telephone call within the Victoria telephone exchange area, from the time that the subscriber lifts the receiver until the called telephone rings or the "busy" signal is received.

And when the Albion, Belmont and Colquitz exchanges are converted to automatic operation in 1954, the same speedy service will be extended to them. At that time the charge for calls between Albion, Belmont, Colquitz and Victoria will be abolished, making it unnecessary to put calls through an operator for ticketing purposes. Calls will then be handled entirely by the high-speed automatic machinery.

It is impossible to give the "flat-rate" service before the conversion because the resulting increase in calls would completely swamp the existing Albion, Belmont and Colquitz switchboards.

The conversion of Albion, Belmont and Colquitz to automatic service is an important step in our Company's record-breaking program of expansion and improvement.

In the World Of Religion

BY F. GWYNNE LIGHTBOURN

For the first time in history the heads of the three largest Protestant communions in Canada are graduates of the same college. When University College in the University of Toronto last week celebrated its centenary, a service of thanksgiving and rededication was conducted by the Most Rev. Walter F. Barlow, primate of the Church of England in Canada, and the Right Rev. A. A. Scott and the Right Rev. W. A. Cameron, moderators of the United and Presbyterian Churches respectively. The three dignitaries received honorary doctorates of laws from the university at a special centennial convocation.

The retirement of Dr. M. F. McArthur from the pastorate of the First Baptist Church, Montreal, which he has served for 39 of his 47 years in the ministry, is of more than local interest. His concern for the Kingdom of God has never been limited to his own denomination or his own locality.

WENT TO MONTREAL. This writer went to Montreal some 30 years ago as a young curate, and has reason to remember the kindly friendship and encouragement of the Christian gentleman who was then beginning his tenth year at that church. That was shortly before the reunion with Oliver Church, where George Gilmour, now the president of McMaster University, was beginning his distinguished ministry.

The provincial office of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Hanover, Germany, and the Roman Catholic Vicarates General in Hildesheim and Osnabrück have agreed on conditions governing the use by congregations of either communion of churches belonging to the other. Services of the guest congregation shall be at hours that do not conflict with those of the host church.

NO RECONSECRATION. Use of the altar, with its cross, candles, etc., but not the actual communion vessels, and of the pulpit, lectern and organ is permitted, but there must be no proceedings amounting to a reconsecration of the altar.

When Professor Joseph Mundaca was dismissed from the teaching staff of St. Thomas College, a Roman Catholic institution in Trichur, India, because of his admittedly Communist views and teaching, the leader of the Communist group in the Indian parliament, A. K. Gopalan, protested to the college authorities who were trying to extinguish all free thinking.

Uncle Wiggly Story - By Howard Garis

THE ALLIGATOR AGAIN. Uncle Wiggly was up bright and early on the morning of the nutting party to which Johnnie and Billie Bushytail, the squirrel brothers, had invited many of their friends.

"Where are you going now, if I may ask?" inquired Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy as the rabbit banister rattled to his breakfast. "I am going to a party," Mr. Longears answered.

"Isn't it rather early for a party?" the muskrat lady wanted to know. "Why it is only 7 o'clock!" "You must always go early on a nutting party," replied the rabbit gentleman.

"Are you afraid the nuts might fly away or roll away or do something like that unless you are there in the woods when the nuts get out of bed?" Inquired Nurse Jane, laughing as she brought in the rabbit gentleman's breakfast.

"Nuts don't roll out of bed, Janie," answered Uncle Wiggly. "The nuts pop out of their husks on the trees and fall to the ground. But there are so many squirrels after the nuts this year, that unless I and the other friends of Johnnie and Billie are in the woods early, my little squirrel friends would have enough nuts to live on during the winter that is soon coming."

Coming, boys! Coming!" he shouted and, after twinkling his pink nose at Nurse Jane, Uncle Wiggly hopped out and joined Johnnie and Billie, and many of their friends who were going to the woods to gather nuts.

"What sort of nuts are stylish this season, Johnnie?" asked Uncle Wiggly as he hopped along. "I hope we can get some hickory nuts, butternuts, walnuts and chestnuts," Johnnie answered. "My brother and I went in the woods a few days ago. We climbed trees and there seems to be a large nut crop this year. We need many nuts to help us live through the winter."

"In the woods Johnnie and Billie, with other squirrels, climbed up into trees and shook the branches so that nuts of many kinds fell in the ground. Rustler, and some of the boys who did not eat nuts, gathered into piles the nuts for the squirrels."

"Have you enough nuts now?" asked Uncle Wiggly. "Enough for today but we will come and get more tomorrow," chattered Johnnie as he and the other squirrels carried the nuts into bags to carry to their homes to be stored away in hollow trees and other places.

Just as the nutting party was leaving the woods, suddenly along came all the Skilley Skallery Alligators with their double-headed tails. He roared toward Uncle Wiggly and shouted: "This time you cannot get away!" "Help! Help!" cried the rabbit gentleman. And if the telephone will tell a bedtime story in the television before it goes to sleep, I will tell you to-morrow how someone helped Uncle Wiggly escape from the alligator.

Sunday Services in Victoria Churches

Two United Churches To Observe Anniversaries

Two local United churches celebrate anniversaries on Sunday.

Centennial will observe their 67th anniversary with a special evening service conducted by Rev. B. F. Ennals, of New Westminster. Mr. Ennals is president of the B.C. Conference of the United Church of Canada.

SPECIAL SERVICE. The 67th anniversary of the founding of Wilkeson Road United Church will also be celebrated at a special service where Dr. Douglas Telfer will be speaker.

At 6 p.m. Monday an anniversary supper is to be served. Dr. Telfer and some of the original members will take part in the program after supper.

Old friends and those living in the area are invited to attend both gatherings.

First meeting for the fall season of Belmont Avenue United Church Men's Club was held this week. M. W. Nye was elected president and R. P. Knott was confirmed for his ninth term as secretary.

Many Canadian members of the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts movement will be interested to hear of the congregation of the Very Rev. M. P. G. Leonard, provost of St. Mary's Cathedral, Glasgow as Bishop Suffragan of Thailand.

"Pat" Leonard was the DSO in the First World War, and was the compiler of "Scouts' Owns," an excellent collection of services and prayers for Scouts. A close friend of "Tubby" Clayton, he was a headquarters padre of Toc H, and is well known throughout that world fellowship.

The federal mission council of the Dutch Reformed Church in South Africa has called a conference of leaders of all the European (white) churches to be held next month in Pretoria to prepare the agenda for a larger multi-racial conference next year on the implications of race relations and race problems for the Kingdom of God in South Africa.

William W. Pendleton, whose 17 years employment by a bank in Richmond, Virginia, carried him to the position of personnel manager, has resigned at the age of 37 and has entered the Virginia Theological Seminary to study for the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal Church. He is an army veteran of the Second World War.

Miss Britta Runge, a Victoria school teacher, will give instruction on the Flippie Flute, or recorder, at the Arts Centre, in the near future.

The instrument, much like an ordinary flute, is simple to learn and pleasant to listen to, Miss Runge says.

It has much the same appearance as a chair rung, but with seven finger holes on one side and a thumb hole on the other.

Miss Runge says it's history can be traced to the 15th Century when it was used in orchestras much as the modern flute is now used.

It is manufactured in alto, soprano, tenor and bass ranges and is considered an ideal first instrument for young children. A violinist by choice, Miss Runge fled Germany after the Russian occupation, and in the haste with which she left, was forced to abandon her violin.

The recorder was the only instrument she could afford at the time, to replace the violin, and since then she has become so fond of it she hesitates to give it up.

INCREASE POPULARITY. She says she hopes to make it more popular here with lessons she will give at the Arts Centre this winter. Dates of the classes will be announced at a later date.

U.K. Lacrosse Tour By Canadians Urged

BY ARCH MACKENZIE
LONDON (CP)—They're still playing lacrosse in England, although chances are slim that Canada's great summer game will ever pack Wembley's stadium. If the old Indian game achieves that hallmark of popularity, the teams could be female.

Speaking of the male side of the sport, publicity man Gordon Foster of the South of England Men's Lacrosse League agrees "we're down at the bottom of the sports list." But he and

Sunday Sport Causes Upset In Grid Loop

HALIFAX (CP)—The entire executive of the Nova Scotia Junior Football League, headed by a Roman Catholic priest, has resigned following criticism of Sunday games by a Protestant group.

Rev. Daniel Rourke, the president, and other executive members said they resigned rather than stir up a religious controversy.

A revised schedule, including Sunday games, was drawn up by a new executive headed by Lt. Cmdr. S. MacCormick.

Criticism of Sunday games came from the Halifax presbytery of the United Church of Canada.

Cmdr. A. Pratt, new vice-president, said entertainment for service personnel is "a major problem." It is not a commercial enterprise, and with over 1,000 men to care for on Sunday is an outlet.

Rev. A. Mowatt, chief Protestant chaplain at the nearby Shearwater navy air base, was named a committee of one to meet the presbytery to discuss a possible agreement.

Golf—Here's How

BY SAM SNEAD

If you don't hold a left toe grip with the ground you will almost always over-swing. This player has swung around so far that his left foot is in almost perpendicular position. That's wrong! Your left heel never leaves the ground more than enough to keep your knees level. That's never more than a few inches. If you release your left toe grip on the ground, you also release the power stored up by hip and shoulder pivot.

And, with an over-swing, such as is pictured, it is nearly impossible to bring the club back to the ball at the correct mechanical instant. Pictured at the right, note the grip in the address position. The arrows inserted show you how the right and left hands work against each other—in order to help each other—at impact. Study this and you'll see where much of the crack in the whip action of a good golf swing is produced. As the left hand presses backward on the top of the shaft, the right hand is pressing forward. And there comes the crackle-snap you want.

HECTOR MCINTYRE

Former Liverpool University team captain and holder of seven English university international caps, inside forward Hector McIntyre will make his first start for Victoria United in Coast Soccer League when the local club meets Dominion champion New Westminster Royals at Royal Athletic Park at 2:30 this afternoon in match which could break second place tie between the two clubs.

Chess Finals To Feature Two Russians

ZURICH, Switzerland (CP)—Vassily Smyslov of Russia qualified Thursday night to challenge his compatriot, Mikhail Botvinnik, for the world chess championship next year.

Though not engaged in a game himself, the 32-year-old amateur opera singer from Moscow became the winner of the elimination tournament to pick a challenger for the world title when David Bronstein of Russia defeated Samuel Reshevsky of the United States in an adjourned game.

It was Bronstein's second victory over Reshevsky in the 28-round tournament which ends today. Reshevsky had been Smyslov's principal challenger, and until Thursday night still had a slim chance of tying him, which would have meant a playoff.

Heavyweight Loses Twice

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—Heavyweight Arthur Flynn lost two decisions in the same ring. First he lost a three-rounder Thursday night to Ronnie Morrison.

When referee Robert Duff announced the decision, Flynn took out after the official. He caught Duff in mid-ring and punched away.

Police stopped that fight and a judge announced another decision against Flynn: "12 of 20 days in jail," the judge said.

Beliveau Hurt, May Miss Game Tonight

MONTREAL (BUP)—Montreal Canadiens may be without the services of rookie centre Jean Beliveau when they take the ice against Detroit Red Wings in a National Hockey League game here tonight.

Beliveau, who became a Canadian this year after signing the highest-salaried contract in NHL history, received an "ankle crack" in Thursday night's game against the Black Hawks in Chicago and was forced to leave the game in the second period.

"Beliveau is a very doubtful starter in tonight's game," coach Dick Irvin said. "It was a bad crack. We'll put ice packs around it for the trip home and we'll have it X-rayed as soon as we arrive in Montreal."

Paul Masnick, a third-line centre last season and now with Montreal Royals of the Quebec League, will be brought up on a three-game, lend-lease basis to replace Beliveau.

Four Hunters Draw Fines

Four hunters, appearing before stipendiary magistrate A. I. Thomas in provincial court Friday, were fined for infractions of game regulations.

Derick Cosby, 3206 Shelbourne Street, and George Kmet, 491 Ker Avenue, were each fined $25 and costs for having a loaded firearm in a motor vehicle while Douglas Earl Slater, Jordan River, was assessed a similar amount for non-possession of a firearms license.

George Parker, 3240 Carmen Road, received a fine of $25 and three dollars costs on a charge of having more than one deer in possession and a suspended sentence plus $1 cost for having untagged deer in possession.

FAN FARE

By Walt Dittzen

Remember When:

Joe DiMaggio, whose bat helped New York Yankees to fourth straight world series title, was voted the most valuable player in the American League 14 years ago today. That Yankee string ending in 1939 was eclipsed this month when Casey Stengel led the Yankees to their fifth straight world series title.

The association dropped out of last year's championships in Switzerland because of criticism of North American "rough house tactics" but picked the Lyndhurst Motors' team of Toronto from "a number of applications" to represent the CAHA.

In addition to competing in the championships from February 26 to March 7 the club will make a 16-game exhibition tour of Paris, France, Switzerland, Italy, Germany and Sweden.

Canada, when she has competed, has failed to win the world title only twice since the championships were inaugurated in the 1920s. She was defeated in 1936 and 1949.

Fifth-Ranking Japan Nine Trips American All-Stars

TOKYO (UPI)—Eddie Lopat's by Hank Sauer and Eddie American League All-Stars Robinson.

Curt Simmons started for the All-Stars but was relieved by Mike Garcia in the seventh inning. The Cleveland right-hander went out in favor of Robin Roberts in the ninth.

The Mainichi Orions' victory delighted a cheering crowd of 25,000 Japanese and American baseball fans, who had expected to see Lopat's team win by a lopsided score.

Mainichi left-hander Atsushi Aramaki held the All-Stars to four hits and enjoyed a 1-1 lead until the ninth inning, when the Americans tied the score on a walk by Eddie Mathews and successive home runs

Wholesale Appliances Limited New Philco Distributor for B.C.

VANCOUVER—Appointment of Wholesale Appliances Limited of Vancouver as exclusive distributor in B.C. of all Philco Corporation of Canada products, is the latest step in the recently formed company's fast-moving expansion program.

The appointment is announced by W. H. Jeffery, vice-president and general manager of Philco Corporation of Canada.

Complete parts supply and service for the Philco line of radios, television sets, refrigerators, home freezers and air conditioners, will consolidate the sales program of Wholesale Appliances Limited.

Formation of Wholesale Appliances Limited in June this year, made available in B.C. for the first time, an organization completely specialized in the sales and service of major appliances.

An all-B.C. company, it is headed by A. S. Baillie of Vancouver, president and managing director, a former mining company executive well known throughout Western Canada.

Before founding Wholesale Appliances Limited, Mr. Baillie was associated with Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting and Power Co. Ltd. for 27 years, latterly as vice-president and general manager.

General manager of the new firm is R. M. Wilson, previously with the Philco Corporation as manager of its central and western divisions.

D. C. Mainwaring is sales manager. He was associated with Philco for five years also as a division manager.

The former parts and service manager for Philco in Western Canada, C. L. Ferch, is now parts and service manager of Wholesale Appliances Limited.

The company's sales representatives are H. A. Miller, for Vancouver region, and R. W. Patrick, for Vancouver Island. Both are veterans of the appliance business in Western Canada.

Another of the company's major appliance lines is Speed Queen, one of the world's largest manufacturers of all types of home laundry equipment for 30 years. Five models of Speed Queen wringer washers and automatic ironers, and automatic gas and electric washers and driers are available from Wholesale Appliances Limited.

Head office, warehouse and service centre of Wholesale Appliances Limited is located on a five-acre site at 8401 Fraser Street.

This means a fantastic saving for you—in many cases far in excess of the $500 you saved last week...this is the price Used Car Dealers buy them at, and for the first time in the history of National Motors they are giving you this unbelievable chance to buy a Used Car at a Genuine Wholesale Price.

the ROYAL V8

Lowest-priced car offering these 2 great engineering triumphs for '54

NEW

TRANSMISSION

THE V-8 ENGINE THAT'S YEARS AHEAD

You'll find the Dodge Royal V-8 is Dodge at its finest — a more powerful, smoother, more luxurious successor to the Dodge Coronet V-8. It offers you matchless performance in the medium-price field... a combination of the "ideal-design" Red Ram V-8 engine, famous for efficiency and economy and now rated at 150 H.P. ... a torque converter which greatly increases the engine's accelerating ability... and a simple, smooth, fully automatic shift.

PowerFlite, the industry's newest and finest completely automatic transmission, is standard equipment on all Dodge Royal V-8 models. It gives you three great advantages. First, its simple design and automatic shift (without moving your foot from the accelerator) give you smooth, quiet, easy operation and assure long, trouble-free life; second, it provides the extra acceleration of a torque converter for fast oil-cushioned starts; third, while there is no clutch, simple operation of the selector lever between first and reverse allows you to rock the car to get out of snow or mud.

You'll find new beauty and comfort, too, in the 1954 Dodge Royal V-8... new chrome treatment that produces that longer, lower look... beautifully upholstered, colourful two-tone interiors... wide, restful, chair-high seats.

Arrange today for a demonstration of this brilliant new Dodge Royal V-8. You'll find that it has all the style, appointments, pick-up and performance that anyone could desire — and it remains in the medium-price class.

150 H.P. Red Ram V-8 Engine

Here's the engine design universally recognized as the ideal! The new Dodge Red Ram V-8 engine packs more power punch per cubic inch displacement... delivers a full 150 H.P. on regular grade gasoline. It is the only engine in the Dodge Royal price class which brings you the triple design advantages of: dome-shaped combustion chamber... short stroke design... high lift lateral valves. More fuel energy is converted into useful power, less is wasted in heat and friction.

Colourful Beauty, Inside and Out

There's a real feeling of luxurious comfort in the interior of the Dodge Royal. The design is completely new, using the latest type nylon, rayon and vinyl fabrics, harmonized into colourful and pleasing ensembles. Floors are covered by rich, deep wool type carpeting. Twelve attractive new body colours can be used overall or adapted into 48 two-tone colour combinations to please the most discriminating.

Full Power Steering

You'll be astonished how easily you can steer or park with Dodge Full Power Steering. From the moment you start the Dodge engine, hydraulic power does 4/5ths of the work for you. It's on the job all the time when parking, driving through traffic, turning corners, over rough roads, on snow and ice — giving you effortless control of your Dodge and much greater safety.

Even She Doesn't Own One

Gown of Blush Satin Worn Raise $125 By Bride Donna May Brown At Dinner

A gown of blush satin, which was worn by the bride, Donna May Brown, at her wedding dinner, was sold for $125. The gown was a beautiful, floor-length dress with a full skirt and a high collar. It was made of a soft, lustrous fabric and was in excellent condition. The bride's mother, Mrs. J. H. Brown, stated that she was pleased to see the gown sold for such a high price, as it was a very special item.

Beauty and You

By MARION MATTHEWS

One of the most interesting things about the world of beauty is the way in which it changes. What was once considered beautiful is now considered ugly, and vice versa. This is true of fashion, of hairstyles, and of the products used to achieve them. The world of beauty is a constantly evolving one, and it is interesting to see how it changes over time.

The most expressive paintings of Dutch artist Peter van der Bruggen and Canadian artist Miss Fine, displayed at the Victoria Art Museum, have attracted much interest among visitors.

The rugged beauty of Canadian landscape is captured in the paintings of Miss Fine, while the Dutch artist's work is characterized by a sense of movement and a bold use of color.

The exhibition is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, except on Sundays and public holidays. Admission is free.

Court Levies $35 Fine For Careless Driving

A driver who was charged with careless driving after a collision with a truck, has been fined $35 by the court.

The driver, who was charged with careless driving, was found guilty by the court. The fine was levied for the driver's failure to maintain a safe distance from the truck.

The court heard that the driver was driving at a speed of 40 km/h when the collision occurred. The driver was found to be at fault for the collision.

The court also heard that the driver was not wearing a seat belt at the time of the collision. The court found that this was a contributing factor to the collision.

The driver was fined $35 for careless driving. The court also ordered the driver to attend a driver's education course.

REDUCED HANDLING COSTS AND OVERNIGHT SERVICE TO ALL VANCOUVER ISLAND POINTS

All points on Vancouver Island are now included in the new Island Freight Service direct from Vancouver. With one bill of lading only, entire trailer and contents are loaded five days per week from C.P.R. wharf, Vancouver, and are transported to all points on Vancouver Island. Shipments reaching Island freight berth in C.P.R. pier B.C. by 4 p.m. will arrive at their Island destination in time for the opening of business the following morning. New through rates are lower with this system - only one bill of lading, one handling between shipper and consignee, provides the most comprehensive and efficient freight delivery service to Island points ever offered.

Famed Clown Dies in Paris

PARIS (Reuters)—Henri Prognant, the sad little man who made millions laugh at "Rhum," often described as "the greatest clown of all time" died here Wednesday night after a long illness. He was 49.

Rhum, who was a circus top-liner for 40 years, made his last public appearance in London last month.

LONG SUMMER
OSHAWA, Ont. (CP)—Fine large raspberries were another proof of the unusually fine autumn weather. They were picked in mid-October from big clusters in a garden on the Lake Ontario shore near here.

Alberni Crash Fatal

ALBERNI—One man was killed instantly, another seriously injured in a motorcycle-truck collision at a residential intersection here at 4:30 p.m. Friday.

Dead is James Harvey Sandberg, 33, of Port Alberni.

Seriously injured was Ralph Sperling, 33, also of Port Alberni, who suffered leg injuries. Both men are thought to be transients.

Sandberg and Sperling were riding on the motorcycle in a collision with a truck driven by John Harper, 23, of Port Alberni at the intersection of Latham and George streets.

It is not yet known which of the two was driving the motorcycle. RCMP investigation of the accident is continuing.

Sperling was taken to West Coast General Hospital for treatment.

Work Call Fails

LONDON (Reuters)—London's gasoline distributors, whose four-day strike is grinding the capital's traffic to a halt, Friday night rejected a return-to-work call from their union leaders.

Their mass meeting broke up without agreement of any sort after the union motion had been overwhelmingly rejected, strongly indicating the strike will continue during the week end.

Army and air force troops moved into London Friday to check the parades. Khaki-clad Tommies and drivers in the RAF's slate blue will be on the road at dawn today in tank trucks, seeing to it that essential traffic is kept moving.

A spokesman for the strikers said the union's call had been turned down Friday night because the union did not offer token support for pay increase demands. More mass meetings will be held today and Sunday. Meanwhile, "we have no plans for any return to work," the spokesman said.

Flood Toll Rises in Italy

REGGIO CALABRIA, Italy (CP)—One hundred persons were officially estimated Friday night to have died in disastrous floods ravaging more than 400 square miles of the "toe" of Italy.

The figure may mount higher. Villages are still cut off from the outside world by swirling waters and landslides caused by torrential rains.

Army engineers, police, firemen and volunteers have recovered 49 bodies, most of them in Reggio province which has borne the brunt of the two-day deluge.

Makeshift barracks and tents put up by the Red Cross and the army are packed with 1,000 homeless people.

Britain Unveils New-Style Jet

A new aircraft, which may revolutionize the shape and performance of future airplanes, has made its first flight in Belfast, Northern Ireland. It is the Short Sherpa, the first aircraft ever to fly with an "aero-isoclinic" wing and instead of conventional ailerons and elevators it has rotating wing tips which act as controls. This is the first Sherpa produced, and so far is classed as a research model. (Central Press Canadian.)

Socred Leaders See Rosy Future

By Colonist Staff Reporter

VANCOUVER—Eight hundred confident, smiling Social Crediters crowded into Vancouver's Georgia Auditorium Friday night to hear a platform full of party chiefs predict a rosy Socred future after "greater victories still to be won."

Sharing a platform for the first time were Canada's two Social Credit premiers, W. A. C. Bennett and Alberta's E. C. Manning.

Ranked beside them were national Social Credit president Rev. E. G. Hansell, national organizer Orvis Kennedy, provincial league president Noel Murphy and his new executive, and almost the entire provincial cabinet.

Missing from the line-up was national leader Solon Low, who flew east three hours ahead of schedule to escape an in-rolling fog.

Premier Manning, chief speaker at a banquet celebrating the end of B.C. Socreds' first big gathering since their political victories of this summer, praised the B.C. faithful for their "phenomenal breakthrough" and told them that Social Credit now stands "at the threshold of a great new era."

Other speakers pursued the same vein. "Social Credit is on the march," provincial president Murphy said. "We're on our way," echoed Orvis Kennedy. "Nothing can stop us," national president Hansell jubilantly proclaimed.

The two premiers indulged in a little mutual flattery as they faced their first audience together. "I admire and respect Mr. Bennett more than I can express in words," Mr. Manning said.

"We'll never have a better nor a greater leader than our own Mr. Manning," said Premier Bennett.

Mr. Manning told the audience that Social Crediters in B.C. had kindled the flame that would sweep the nation.

"For years people had the idea that Social Credit was a sort of crackpot mistake that happened just the other side of the Rockies, that it was an episode of war."

party has started a campaign of non-co-operation in the colony.

He said party supporters are withdrawing money from post office savings accounts and boycotting British goods.

Jagan—himself an East Indian—told a group of Indian reporters that there is "no likelihood" of violence in British Guiana.

Both he and party chairman L. F. S. Burnham, here to try to persuade the British government to reinstate the colony's constitution, denied reports of a split in the PPP.

In Georgetown Friday, sources close to the party said Jagan's Detroit-born wife, Janet, had stayed off a threatened split.

Earlier this week, the moderate wing of the party, which supports Burnham, threatened to denounce party extremists unless Mrs. Jagan, secretary of the party, called a special meeting of the PPP general council.

It was learned Friday that two days ago she persuaded the moderates to wait and see how her husband and Burnham make out in England.

demie that would never spread to the more civilized parts of Canada.

"But you people here have started a fire that amazed all those antiquated political prophets who were so sure it couldn't happen here."

"The break-through you people have made shows all of Canada that this was no peculiar local idea" but the beginnings of a great national movement.

OBJECTIVE NEEDED
"The pioneer days have passed," he went on. "We have entered a new era. For this we must have a worthy and clearly defined objective."

This could not be simply the establishment of a new political party seeking to gain and retain office as its sole purpose, he said. Nor could it be simply to be a critical and destructive force in the country's economic and political life.

Mr. Manning outlined as his ideal these three goals:

A sound, constructive alternative to other political parties; Provision of the facilities to implement a "program to meet the needs of the Canadian people in this day and age."

And the establishment of "new standards and a new attitude toward the administration of public affairs."

Joke Missed By Socreds

By Colonist Staff Reporter

VANCOUVER—Health Minister Eric Martin's sly Irish wit led 475 Social Crediters here to propose a manifest absurdity as government policy.

The Socreds, meeting to pass resolutions for the government's guidance, were discussing one urging that the alcoholic content of B.C. liquor be restored to its prewar standard.

Mr. Martin offered a dead-pan amendment that "all the water be taken out of the liquor." Whiskey could be reduced to a powder and taken like snuff, he suggested.

A delegate seconded the amendment and it was passed without further discussion.

In the corridor a few minutes later Mr. Martin was explaining to a group of astonished observers that he had intended the amendment purely as a joke.

SOCREDS OPPOSE SUNDAY SPORTS

Resolution Put Aside Delegates to Convention Roused to Sharp Attack

BY T. A. MYERS

Colonist Staff Reporter

VANCOUVER—A resolution urging "limited" Sunday sports and entertainment brought religious-minded delegates storming to the microphones in protest as the provincial Social Credit convention neared its end Friday.

The resolution, which would have limited entertainment to after-church hours, ran into stiff opposition on all sides. It was eventually tabled after some sharp discussion.

Prof. J. Friend Day of Vancouver, speaking in favor of the resolution, told of his strait-laced boyhood, when the only Sunday reading permitted by his parents was the Bible and "Pilgrim's Progress."

This, he said, was "puritanical humbug." He urged the convention to approve the resolution.

The delegates, however, would have none of that. One after another trooped to the floor mikes to express stern disapproval of what they called a "wide-open Sunday."

"If we go for this sort of thing we're just opening up the way for paid sports, movies and entertainment," said R. O. Ney, Oak Bay. "Sunday will be some fool seconded it and it was passed." Standing beside Mr. Martin was a man the minister apparently didn't recognize—R. O. Ney, Oak Bay delegate who seconded the amendment.

Compromise Settles Ship Strike

OTTAWA (CP)—A seamen's strike threatening to paralyze Canada's ocean merchant fleet ended Friday.

Seamen who walked out September 29 settled for a basic $6-a-month wage increase and a work week shortened to 48 hours. The settlement was a compromise on the part of both the sailors and the ship operators.

An offshoot of the surprise settlement—the disputants had been regarded as still at odds as to Friday—was that it will speed a cabinet decision on whether federal subsidies should be provided to keep the deep sea fleet operating.

Substation Radio-Controlled

Construction of a new $250,000 outdoor substation on Station Road, Langford, is in progress, the B.C. Electric Co. announced Friday. Purpose of the automatic station will be to reduce part of the 60,000-volt energy from the Jordan River hydro plant to 12,000 volts for distribution in the Langford, Metchosin, Albert Head, Happy Valley areas and the new national defense installation at Rocky Point. The new substation is expected to be in operation by December 15. Control equipment will adjust to demands on the line, and the station will also be radio controlled from Victoria, and will be the company's first radio-controlled substation on Vancouver Island.

Behind Every Tree May Lurk an Enemy

Armed speed boats of Viet Nam are patrolling one of the many waterways in the guerrilla-infested area of Viet Nam, where the hit-and-run war against the Communist-dominated Viet-

Minh forces still goes on. U.S. material is now reaching Indo-China in increasing volume to aid the French and their allies throw back the Red wave. (Central Press Canadian.)

Steamers Collide in Fog

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two when the crash occurred at 9:20 a.m. PST. The ships, both minor repairs to her starboard foot hole in the port bow of Union Steamship's Ss. Cardena and two of her crew received minor injuries. The 333-foot, 3,251-ton Princess Elizabeth, owned by Canadian Pacific Steamships, escaped almost unscathed.

GRINDING CRASH
Close to 150 passengers aboard the two ships were hurled from their feet in the grinding crash that locked the two vessels together but all escaped with nothing worse than a shaking up.

Captive Clubs Red Leader

NEW YORK (UPI)—Convicted U.S. Communist leader Robert G. Thompson was slugged twice on the head Friday by a prison mate yielding a lead pipe, and sent to a hospital with a fractured skull.

Thompson's assailant, Alexander Pavlovich, 32, a Yugoslav reported to have strong anti-Communist feelings, was to be returned to Vancouver after a scheduled mid-November sailing to Victoria. She night for illegal entry. It was

Colonist To Tell Of Mountbattens

An outstanding series of articles, "The Fabulous Mountbattens," begins Sunday in The Islander, the Colonist's magazine section.

Adapted from Brian Connell's book, "Manifest Destiny," the 10 illustrated articles will tell the story of the Duke of Edinburgh, Queen Elizabeth's consort.

The first article covers two pages in this week's Islander.

Subsequent articles will appear weekly in the magazine section.

Boy of Nine Gives Savings

Friday afternoon nine-year-old Gordon Burleson did not come straight home from school. Instead he pedaled off to Spencehouse.

"Is this where you make donations to the Community Chest?" he asked. Informed that it was, he placed 25 cents—saved from his allowance—in the Chest total nearer the re-front of Chest officials. He was given an official receipt, which he may use to claim income tax exemption.

"These little incidents happen all the time," smiled Ron Hooper, Chest secretary. "We had another kid in today with money he made selling lemonade on the street corner." Every contribution, whether it comes from the city's wealthiest industrialist or the little lad with a conscience, helps to push the Chest total nearer the re-front of Chest officials. He was given an official receipt, which he may use to claim income tax exemption.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

ONE way to clean your desk is to sweep everything from the desk into a box every three or four months and take the box home. That's the way I use.

When you get the box home, you dump all the papers out of it and sort them. So I now have the trouble with me is that I don't. So I now have what must be Victoria's largest collection of boxes full of old papers.

Boxes full of papers are stubborn things. They won't sort themselves. The only thing they might do is set themselves on fire by spontaneous combustion. Mine have not done that, however.

I am therefore left with the choice of sorting them or throwing them away holtus-bolus. Until recently I was too lazy to do the first and too cowardly to do the second. In some of the boxes are priceless documents belonging to other people, trusted to me on the promise that I would guard them with my life.

The boxes are also loaded with notes, ideas, clippings, souvenirs and things that might come in useful. So, as you can readily see, throwing them away is unthinkable. Well, I can readily see it, anyway.

Collecting boxes of paper is all very well, as long as you live in the same house all the time. There is usually room in the basement for just one more box.

Then you decide to move. Stocktaking reveals that you have made the decision just in time. If you had left it another month or so, the boxes would have crowded you on to the street.

For me, moving-day is barely a week away. At every chance, even when there are visitors, I hump a box of papers from the basement to the sitting room and sort through them.

So far I have combed from my archives a number of bygone dusty copies of the New York World-Telegram, Ceylon Observer, and such journals. I have been made aware of many fascinating news stories two or three years old, which I missed somehow at the time they happened.

Moving day has interfered with the tidying of my desk at the office. Weeks ago I obtained from a grocery store down the street an enormous cardboard box labelled "Moligrain Toasted Wheat Puffs." I began piling goods from my desk into it, meaning to carry the whole thing home as usual.

Then it occurred to me that this was just one more box to sort and move. So I let it stand on my desk for the time being as a kind of bin into which I threw surplus papers.

Unfortunately the papers are piling up not only in the box, but also on both sides of it.

Can anybody offer me a warehouse for rent?

News in Review

(From AP, CP, Reuters, UP)

BY ERITH M. SMITH

A London announcement says Lieut.-Col. James Carme, leader of the "Glorious Gloucesters" during the regiment's Injin River battle in Korea in 1951, has been awarded the Victoria Cross. He is the third Commonwealth soldier (and second of the Gloucesters) to receive Britain's highest award for valor during the Korean war.

The fisheries council of Canada in Washington Friday urged the United States to reject New England demands for fish import restrictions, emphasizing that thousands of Canadian workers would be hit if the curbs were imposed.

The transportation commission of Montreal has recommended construction of a $117,000,000 subway, describing the project as "absolutely necessary" for the traffic-harassed city.

Italian Ambassador Alberto Tarchiani said Friday in Washington that U.S. State Secretary Dulles had personally assured him the U.S. and Britain "will not go back" on their decision to turn over Trieste's Zone A to Italy.

From Ottawa Friday night came word that Ft. Lieut. Russell H. Janzen, 33, of Pambun, Sask., has been awarded the Queen's commendation for valuable services in the air. The RCAF announcement said the award was for outstanding air-shipmanship during several winter flying operations.

More than 1,000,000 visitors passed through Alberta's four national parks this year, nearly 130,000 more than in 1952, federal parks officials in Edmonton said Friday. Most popular park was Banff, with 543,171 visitors.

The "King of Lilliput," Whymcarn Bassett-Lowke, 72, whose midget-scale model trains, cars, ships and planes have delighted boys of all ages all over the world for half a century, has died, according to a dispatch from London.

Another Canadian Army band is going to Korea. The army has announced in Ottawa that the Royal Canadian Signals band will fly to the Far East in mid-November.

From Prince Rupert comes word that Allan M. Hurst, 55-year-old principal of Booth Memorial High School in that city, died suddenly Thursday. Mr. Hurst, a veteran of the First World War, was director of YMCA war services in British Columbia during the Second World War.
